

TRANSITIONS

TO ADD AN IDEA TO ONE ALREADY STATED:

again	equally important	in addition	moreover	still also	further	in the same fashion	next	too besides	furthermore	likewise	second

TO LIMIT OR CONTRADICT SOMETHING ALREADY SAID:

although	even though	in spite of	on the other hand	though at the same time	for all that	nevertheless	otherwise	yet despite	however	notwithstanding	regardless even so	in contrast	on the contrary	still

TO SHOW A TIME OR PLACE ARRANGEMENT OF YOUR IDEAS:

adjacent to	farther on	near	so far after a while	finally	nearby	soon as long as	first	next	sooner or later at last	formerly	now afterward	subsequently at length	here	on the other side	then at that time	immediately	opposite to	there at this point	in the meantime	presently	thereafter before	in the past	second	to the left, right below	lately	shortly	until earlier	later	simultaneously	until now eventually	meanwhile	since	when

TO EXEMPLIFY SOME IDEA OR TO SUM UP WHAT YOU HAVE SAID:

all in all	for instance	in other words	that is altogether	in any case	in particular	therefore as a result	in any event	in short	to put it differently as has been said	in brief	to sum up	to summarize as I have said	in conclusion	in summary	in simpler terms for example	in fact	on the whole

TO SHOW CAUSE AND EFFECT:

accordingly	for this purpose	then	to this end as a result	hence	therefore	with this object because	otherwise	thereupon consequently	since	thus

TO SHOW REFERENCE:

the former	the following	the latter
------------	---------------	------------

TO SHOW MOVEMENT FROM THE GENERAL TO THE SPECIFIC:

in fact	for instance	for example	especially
---------	--------------	-------------	------------

TO COMPARE:

in the same way	likewise	similarly
-----------------	----------	-----------
