Frequently asked questions:

How does the program work?

The DelVal degree completion program at Bucks County Community College (BCCC) allows graduates from select AA and AS degrees to complete their BA or BS degrees on BCCC's Newtown Campus. DVU's degree completion programs are aligned with associate degrees in similar disciplines as follows:

AA Business Administration transfers into
BS Business Administration

AA Criminal Justice transfers into
BS Criminal Justice

AA Psychology Pre-Professional
AA Psychology Interpersonal
AA Social Work transfers into
BA Counseling Psychology

AA Communications: Journalism transfers into
BA Media and Communications

Associate degree graduates who wish to enter the degree-completion program who do not have the aligned associate degree may need to take additional courses to qualify.

What are the advantages of DelVal's Degree Completion Program?

We offer four distinct advantages to participating in the degree completion program:

- Core to Core Articulation
BCCC's core curriculum transfers into DelVal's core curriculum eliminating the need for you to take extra courses
- Additional transfer courses accepted
Up to 12 additional BCCC credits are accepted into the DVU degree beyond your associate degree
- Cost
Reduced tuition and tuition lock
No application or course fees
- Convenience
Complete your entire bachelor degree at one campus

How will my classes be scheduled?

- A sequence of classes for each program will inform you of the schedule.
- Two classes will be held each term on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

What is the cost of tuition and fees for the onsite degree-completion program?

- $425 per credit for DelVal classes.
- The application and all course fees are waived.

What about my transfer credits from BCCC?

- We are transfer friendly and offer a core-to-core articulation with Bucks County Community College.
- You will receive an unofficial copy of your transfer credit evaluation with your letter of acceptance.
- Your transcript(s) will then be assessed by the Registrar, and credits will be applied to your program evaluation. A copy will be sent to your home address.
- Be mindful that bachelor degree candidates must take at least 48 college credits through Delaware Valley University.
- Remaining credits required for your degree can be taken at BCCC at the community college tuition rate.
