Summer 2011 Course Listings - Session I
Lynda Gene Rymond attended Bucks from 1977 to ’82, then transferred to the California College of the Arts in Oakland, Ca., where she received her BFA. The children’s author has written two picture books published by Houghton Mifflin, and also works as a program instructor for adults with severe brain injuries at Success Rehabilitation in Quakertown, Pa.

“I was the first in my family to attend college, and there was so much I didn’t understand about the academic world. However, there were teachers at Bucks who pulled me aside and let me know that I had abilities that needed to be taken seriously. In fact, several teachers in the arts department went above and beyond to help me get my life together and head out into the world. And when I started at the College of the Arts, I found that the training I received at Bucks often put me at the head of the class.”

Arzo Baca (*11) has earned a scholarship to Drexel University based on her academic success at Bucks, where the business administration major has served as an officer for both the Phi Theta Kappa and Kappa Beta Delta honors societies. Baca’s education – like her life – has taken a nontraditional route: her family fled communist Afghanistan for the U.S. when she was three years old. As a teen, she fell in love with an American boy, but since she was forbidden to date, broke away from her family and married at age 16. Eleven years later, they remain happily married while raising a three-year-old daughter. She turned to Bucks in 2008 when she lost her job at a finance company.

“When I was laid off, without a college education, no company wanted to hire me. The reality of my situation ignited a fire in me. I was determined to change my life around and be an example to my daughter to be truly independent. Bucks has fueled that fire. It has been a wonderful place to realize my dreams and potential.”
