ATTEMPT TO IDENTIFY

On April 9, 2007 the Newtown Township Police Department investigated a theft of two credit cards removed from a woman’s purse while she was at Holy Family College in Newtown Township. The victim reported that she was doing research in the library and left her purse unattended under her desk while referencing material. Prior to leaving, the victim discovered her credit cards were missing when she went to retrieve her student I.D. from her wallet to check-out books from the library.

Because of Easter break there were minimal students on the campus at that time of the theft. The victim recalls one other person, a black female, in the library during the same time period.

On April 9, 2007 between 13:00 - 13:14 hours, the victim’s credit cards were used at Kohl’s Department Store in Lower Makefield Township. The suspect made three fraudulent transactions, totaling $1,400.00, in the purchase of gift cards.

The suspect is described as a black female, 35 Y.O.A., 5’4”, 140lbs., shoulder length hair, LSW blue jeans, black leather coat, white sneakers, and carrying a denim backpack purse. It appears the suspect was alone. No vehicle description was available.
