This documentary is the gripping account of a group of brave and visionary women who demanded peace for Liberia, a nation torn to shreds by a decades-old bloody civil war. By taking on the violent warlords and the corrupt regime, these women won a long-awaited peace for their shattered country in 2003. This film would be a valuable learning resource for: Sociology, World History, Psychology, Women’s Studies and Women’s History.

Barbara Shaiman, author and social activist, will share how her legacy as the daughter of Holocaust survivors motivated her to take action to combat the diseases of silence and indifference by creating Champions of Caring, a not-for-profit that has educated and empowered over 10,000 youth from the greater Philadelphia area to become advocates for social justice. She will sign copies of her new book, Live Your Legacy Now!: Ten Simple Steps to Find Your Passion and Change the World.
