

EKG Certification Pass Rates

Academic Year	Number of Candidates Who Attempted the EKG (CET) Examination	Pass Rates
2021	7	100%
2020	7	100%
2019	25	72%
2018	20	100%
2017	17	94%
2016	18	94%
2015	12	100%
2014	29	97%

The National Healthcareer Association offers the certification test to become a Certified EKG Technician (CET). This certification exam is not required for students completing the non-credit program EKG Technician; however, upon successful completion of the courses in this program, students are eligible to take a national certification exam for EKG Technician.

The CET certification test includes:

- EKG Monitoring (60% of the exam)
- Patient Care (40% of the exam)

Information about the certification examination can be found at <http://www.nhanow.com/certifications/ekg-technician>.

Students at Bucks County Community College typically sit for one certification test through the National Healthcareer Association. The certification test includes the EKG (CET).

From 3/3/2021 to 9/27/2021, a total of 7 distinct learners have attempted to take at least 1 NHA certification

These learners have attempted a total of 7 exams, ultimately resulting in 7 certifications being rewarded

The average pass rate over this period is 100%, which is 30 percentage points above the national average pass rate of all NHA testers (70%)

43% of candidates have used digital certification prep materials prior to their first exam attempt