

Presenting the Sixteenth Annual

Tyler Formal Gardens & Landscaping Lecture

Saturday, April 27 • 10:00am

Zlock Performing Arts Center, Newtown Campus

Featuring: TOM SMARR

Lecturing on: *For Love of Garden: Establishing Jenkins Arboretum & Gardens as a Community Resource

Tom Smarr, Executive Director of Jenkins Arboretum & Gardens, near Valley Forge Park, will discuss one of the region's great horticultural and environmental botanical garden assets, and how its story began in 1968 as a loving gift that envisioned the property as a public space for everyone to explore a naturalistic botanical garden. Encompassing 48 acres of diverse plant collections, it is home to nationally accredited rhododendrons, azaleas, mountain laurels and eastern North American plants. Mr. Smarr has worked for numerous horticultural institutions from Longwood to west coast botanic gardens and led the early establishment of horticultural programs at newly opened parks such as the Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy Greenway in Boston; the High Line in New York City; and the Parklands of Floyds Fork in Louisville, Kentucky.

Join us for an informative and fun morning.
