

*Highly-Structured Programs

Highly Structured Programs: because of accreditation, especially tight course sequencing, and/or special admission/placement processes, Highly Structured Programs require students to officially declare these majors to progress through the highly scheduled sequences at a reasonable rate. In many cases, particular courses in the major are only open to students who have declared that major. While all programs benefit from early and firm commitment, Highly Structured majors need to be declared as early as possible in order to avoid significant delays in progress and accumulating courses that do not fit into the desired program.
